

2019 Fraud Trends

18 January 2019 By: Al Pascual, Kyle Marchini

The evolution of the fraud landscape will continue in 2019 with fraudsters, regulators, and consumers all reacting in big ways to changes in the market. For financial institutions (FIs), this will mean continued vigilance and investment in authentication controls, compliance, and fraud detection. In Javelin's "2019 Fraud Trends", we have identified three examples of how the fraud landscape will continue to change, and have included the strategic and tactical guidance that FIs need to stay ahead of these upcoming trends.

2019 FRAUD TRENDS

1. As Faster Payments Comes Into Its Own, Fraud Will Flourish
2. State Breach and Privacy Regulations Heat Up
3. Consumers Demand Truly Seamless Authentication
